

WSPID 2015 Fellow's Workshop provisional timetable:
 Wednesday November 18, 2015

08:00-08:10	Welcome, introduction and overview of the day	David Burgner
08:10-08:30	Introductory remarks	Eitan Berezin Urs Schaad
08:30-09: 00	Why bother with PID research?	Miguel O’Ryan
09:00-09:30	Which design is right for your study?	Juan Pablo Torres
09:30-09:50	How to write a paper	Nigel Curtis
09:50- 10:30	Coffee break – left long in case we need to catch up time
10:30-12:30	6 small group discussions to work up one or more related research proposals. Led by Fellows, facilitated by Faculty Facilitators: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Andrea Salgado (Chile) • Nigel Curtis • Flavia Almeida • Rolando Ulloa-Gutierrez • Eitan Berezin • Miguel O’Ryan • Pierre Smeesters • Urs Schaad • Others tbc
12:30-13:30	Lunch (deliberately left long in case we are running over)
13:30-13:50	Conducting PID research in regions with high clinical load and variable infrastructure: The South African experience	Mark Cotton
13:50-14:15	Facilitating ESPID and research interactions between Europe and Latin America	Pierre Smeisters and Cristiana Nascimento Carvalho
14:15-14:35	Conducting Collaborative PID research in Latin America – opportunities and obstacles	Rolando Ulloa-Gutierrez
14:35-15:00	Conducting PID research in regions with high clinical load and variable infrastructure: The Brazilian experience	Cristiana Nascimento Carvalho and Ricardo Gurgel

15:00-15:20	Coffee break
15:20-16:20	6 presentations of each research proposal. 5 minutes presentation + 5 minutes discussion.
16:20-16:45	“I wish I’d done that”: reflections from current and recent PID fellows. Andrea Salgado to facilitate and lead a discussion with others TBC
16:45-17:00	David Burgner and faculty – summary and wrap-up

CLOSE

Please check the WSPID website for further updates

Please address queries to Ronit Eisenbach at WSPID wspid@kenes.com